

A three-tiered watermelon cake is presented on a light blue plate with a dark blue dotted border. The cake is constructed from watermelon slices: a thick, pale pink slice at the top, a thick, bright red slice in the middle, and a thick, pale pink slice at the base. The tiers are decorated with various fruits. The top tier is topped with two dark red cherries. The middle tier is encircled by a ring of green grapes. The base tier is decorated with several dark red cherries and two star-shaped slices of cantaloupe. The entire cake is set against a plain white background.
